"They should realize that it means the loss of the control of this Senate, now nearly equally divided between the two great parties; it means the loss of the next House of Representatives; it means the loss of the electoral votes of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and probably every northern state, and finally, it means the loss of the next presidency and all it implies."

Other matters of interest in the day's proceedings were the swearing in of the new Senator from Georgia, Mr. Walsh, appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Colquitt; propositions by Mr. Mills (Dem.) of Texas to amend the rules by the introduction of the previous question, by Mr. Allen (Pop.) of Nebraska to close debate on the tariff bill on the fourth of June, and to take a vote on the seventh of June, and by Mr. Harris (Dem.) of Tennessee for daily meeting at 11 a. m. These propositions went over without action.

At about the usual hour for adjournment the Senate got into a legislative muddle over the demand of Mr. Harris to have the Republican side that there was some snare or pitfall concealed in the proposition, particularly as Mr. Harris would not let the matter lie over till to-morrow, and so a sort of filibustering was set going and kept up until 6:30 when, without Mr. Harris's object being attained, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

After postponing until to-morrow the vote on the pending question a motion to discharge the order of arrest of March 26, upon which a vote was taken Saturday without producing a quorum—the House took up District of Columbia business.

Bills to authorize the Metropolitan Street Railroad company to change its motive power and to more effectually suppress gambling in the District of Columbia were discussed and withdrawn.

The following bills were passed: Establishing additional harbor regulations for the district, regulating the sale of gas, requiring street car companies to cancel tickets when once used, and to authorize the adoption of children in the district.

As the House adjourned (at 5:15 p. m.) the official call of Mr. Holman for a Democratic caucus to-morrow night to consider financial measures was read by the clerk.

MUST PAY TAXES.

The Kansas Counties May Tax Railroads As They Please.

TOPEKA, Kas., April 9. Judge J. A. Riker to-day refused to grant the petition of the C. B. & Q. Railway for an injunction to prevent Sheriff Betterton of Norton county from levying on the engines and rolling stock of the company to satisfy delinquent taxes. The decision is one of great importance. It is practically a ruling not only against the Burlington, but many other roads that have been fighting the tax assessment on the ground that it is excessive. The Sheriff of Norton county was about to attach the rolling stock of the company to satisfy unpaid taxes. Judge Riker set aside the restraining order, which prevented it, and refused the injunction. This means the railroad must pay taxes or suffer the consequences. Cases involving the same points, also brought by the Burlington Railroad from Washington and Republic Counties, were not p[assed] on to-day and may not be this term. W. F. Guthrie of Atchison appeared for the Burlington.

PANIC IN A SCHOOL.

Fatal Injuries Inflicted on Children in a Chicago Building.

CHICAGO, April 9. One pupil was killed, one fatally injured and fifteen others hurt at noon to-day during a panic at the Von Humboldt public school, Rockwell avenue and Hirsch street. The mad rush of the children was caused by the bursting of a steam cock on the radiator in one of the class rooms and the subsequent crying of "Fire" by the frightened boys and girls. The dead pupil is Daniel Gunstein, 11 years old, who lived with his parents at 702 Dana avenue. He was trampled under the feet of the panic stricken throng and expired while taken to St. Elizabeth hospital. He might have survived the injuries caused by being trampled upon, but the suffocation from the crowding was fatal.

The fatally injured pupil is Andrew Anderson, 10 years old.

Following are the most seriously injured, all of whom will recover: Benjamin Harris, 7 years old; Martha Ellison, Carl Peterson, Della Schubert, daughter of fire marshal, 5 years old; William Bartholdi, Martha Gibson, 8 years old; Joseph Signel, 10 years old.

All the injured were trampled on and bruised or cut. Most of them were taken from the school in an unconscious condition to the hospital and adjoining homes for medical treatment. There were 1,176 pupils in the three story school building which contained sixteen rooms.

Presidential Nominations.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The President sent to the Senate to-day the following nominations: Edward H. Strobel of New York to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to Ecuador; William R. Hill of Maryland to be Third Assistant Secretary of State vice Edward H. Strobel, nominated to be Minister to Ecuador.

Pepper for Voorhees.

CANTON, O., April 9.—The Canton Trades and Labor Assembly, composed mostly of Democrats, has sent the following answer to one of D. W. Voorhees' circular letters. The answers are full of peppery stuff, the last one reading as follows: "The only further information we have to offer is that Congressmen should either carry out the principles on which they were elected and make this a government of the people, or should resign and go home and let the people send representatives who will do something."

The Coxeyites at Ogden.

OMAHA, April 9. The report was received in this city to-day that efforts are being made in Ogden to ship the western division of the Coxey army now stranded there on as far as Omaha, as a good way to get them out of town.

If they come to Omaha the train will be run right through and across the bridge to Council Bluffs which is the terminus of the Union Pacific. In this way Omaha would escape the army if it is in a hurry to get east.

AN AWFUL WRECK.

The Bark Belmont of Boston Goes Ashore on Cape Cod.

ONLY THREE MEN WERE SAVED.

A Terrible Gale Off the Coast of New England Causes a Number of Shipwrecks—Details of the Terrible Disaster.

BOSTON, April 9.—A fierce northeast gale, accompanied by a blinding snow storm, has prevailed along the New England coast for the last twenty-four hours. Reports of marine disasters, in one of which six lives were lost, have been coming in all day.

The shipwreck which caused the loss of six lives occurred off Cape Cod, that terrible piece of coast which all mariners fear in fair and foul weather alike. The bark Belmont of Boston, with sugar from Trinidad, went ashore on Peaked Hill Bars. So high was the wind and sea and so terrible the sand bars that in 30 minutes the only staunch bark was a total wreck and fast breaking to pieces. Out of a crew of nine men only three reached the shore alive.

The names of the rescued men are Benj. Osborn, Peter Siner and John Stevens.

The crew of the Belmont, shipped in Portland, Me., in December for the West Indies were: Captain W. R. Hagan of Prospect Ferry, Me., master; Charles Garlsen of Boston, first officer; E. F. Curtis of Portland, second officer; John Stewart of Boston, cook; and the following seamen: William Read, Benj. Olsen, Jno. Martin, Peter Turner and Peter Smabarn.

The schooner Nellie was wrecked last night at Granite Cove, on the Ipswich bay coast of Cape Anne. The members of the crew all saved themselves by lowering themselves from the davits. The vessel is a total loss.

The schooner Henry D. May, of Milford, Del., is a wreck at Lanesville.

Natasket Beach, Mass., reported that the three-masted schooner Mary A. Hood, went ashore at Strawberry Hill last evening and will be a total loss.

PROBABLY BE SETTLED.

The Situation of the Strike in the Pennsylvania Coal Fields.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 9.—It is not at all improbable that the coke strike, so far as the Frick company is concerned, will be declared off by to-morrow's convention at Scottdale and a resolution passed indorsing the Frick sliding scale. This scale provides for an increase in wages when the selling price of coke advances. "As the strike is now confined to works not paying scale prices, the passage of such a resolution will solidify the ranks," said a delegate to-night, "and compel the operators to at least establish uniform rates."

It is said to-night that should such a move as this be made by the convention to-morrow the operators will fall into line and end the fight at once. All the plants south of this place resumed work to-day and no attempt was made to stop them. The only raiding was done early in the day at Youngstown, where nine men were stopped from working. The strike is now confined to fourteen plants located between Uniontown and Connellsville.

A Connellsville special says trouble is expected at the Hill Farm works of the Dunbar Furnace company. They attempted to start the works to-day, but the men were driven off the yard by a mob of strikers. Shirer & Wister of Philadelphia, who own the works, arrived here this afternoon and announced their intention of starting the plant if all the strikers have to be killed. They ordered 100 Springfield sixteen-shooting rifles, which were received on an evening train. They were placed in the hands of 100 determined men, who were given orders to shoot all the strikers that offered resistance. A mob of strikers are said to be gathering in that vicinity. Their actions are threatening. The trouble is not expected until the men go to work at 5 o'clock in the morning.

UNION PACIFIC AFFAIRS.

Receivers and Employes Are all Alike Dissatisfied.

OMAHA, April 9.—In all the general offices of the Union Pacific railroad petitions are being circulated among the employes asking that their salaries be put back to the amounts received before the cut. The petitions will be presented either to the receivers or Judge Dundy as is considered best. In some departments the heads offered to endorse the petition to add strength. Some officials refused to permit the papers in their offices.

Things at Union Pacific headquarters are still in confusion, the wage schedule itself not being really settled yet. Rumors are afloat that Receivers Anderson, Coudert and Doane will resign in consequence of Judge Caldwell's criticism and possibly also of Judge Dundy's delay in fixing their salaries until he should see what they earned.

Another thing which causes uneasiness is the reorganization scheme. None of the ten different interests have conceded anything; it is stated. An exception should no doubt be made to the government. It is declared that President Cleveland and Attorney General Olney have concluded that the government will have nothing to show for its second mortgage if it allows the first mortgage, which begins to mature next year, to be foreclosed. The President and the attorney-general are credited with having signified a readiness to advise that a blanket mortgage be taken, thus practically extending the credit of the road.

Says He Is a Smuggler.

DENVER, April 9.—Louis Planto was before Commissioner Hinsdale to-day for examination on an application for extradition. His attorneys applied for a continuance on the ground that Planto claims that he is an American citizen, and that he can prove by an officer of Ogdensburg, N. Y., that he was in that city on the day the charged crime was committed. He admits that he is wanted for smuggler and says that the charge of murdering and robbing a Chinaman in Canada is a fairy tale fabricated for the purpose of getting him over the line. Planto is serving a sentence here for nearly murdering a woman, and was found in jail by Canadian detectives.

BAD FOR BRECKINRIDGE.

The Heaviest Burden of Proof Now Rests on His Side.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The opening of the second month of the Pollard-Breckinridge trial this morning witnessed the beginning of the end in the commencement of the argument before the jury. There were few persons present when the court convened, but the plaintiff was among the spectators, much to most persons' surprise. Colonel Breckinridge and all his lawyers were prompt, including Major Butterworth, who delivered a speech in Cincinnati Saturday night and left the city immediately for Washington.

Judge Bradley read his decision with reference to the prayers for instructions to the jury, which were submitted by both sides on Saturday. He granted nine of the fourteen prayers of the plaintiff, modifying six of these, refused four and decided that one was covered by another prayer, thus practically granting ten of the fourteen prayers. Six of the twelve prayers of the defendant were granted, and a substitute of Judge Bradley's for another was accepted, thus making seven prayers granted, five with modifications and the other five were refused.

After making his decision Judge Bradley said that while the burden of proof rested on the plaintiff to show that a contract to marry was entered into, as the defendant had set up the defense that the contract was not made in good faith, the burden of proof would rest on him to show that there was an agreement that the contract was not to be carried out and that statements made in the presence of other parties were made with this understanding by both parties.

Major Butterworth and Judge Wilson each made an appeal to the court not to set a limit of time on the argument, and Judge Bradley granted the requests with the understanding that counsel would not take up too much time. Calderon Carlisle then began the opening argument for plaintiff.

New York Stock Market.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Money on call has been easy at 1 per cent; last loan at 1 and closed offered at 1 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 3½@4½ per cent.

The market started out firm this morning and in the early transactions sugar moved up 1⅛ to 9⅛ and the general list advanced about ⅛ @ ¾ per cent. in sympathy. A selling movement in Chicago Gas, which carried that stock down to 62¾ put an end to this good feeling for the time being and led to a reaction right through the list. The net result of the day's trading shows a loss of ⅛ @ 1 per cent in the general list and ad advance of ⅝ to 2 per cent, in Sugar, tobacco; New England and Cordage stocks. The market left off steady to firm. Total sales were 154,617 shares.

Railway and miscellaneous bonds were active and strong, sales footing up $2,471,000.

Exchange on London, 4.87½@4.87½. Sight drafts, 4.88½@4.88¾.

A Railroad Ticket.

One of the notable successful farce-comedies of last season was "A Railroad Ticket," written by Charles E. Blaney, a successful young ticket broker of Columbus, Ohio. W. W. Freeman, who has managed Frank Daniels for the past four years, saw the piece and immediately made arrangements with Mr. Blaney to manage it. The piece will be presented here on next Monday evening. The play is billed as "A Farce-Comedy Surprise," and that it is a genuine novelty is the universal opinion of all who have witnessed it. In constructing the work Mr. Blaney is said to have departed entirely from the well worn methods so long employed in the building of farce-comedies, and the result is a production that tickles the appetites of all classes of theatre goers. No old time gags, or syphon bottles are sprung upon the unsuspecting public, but good, fresh, and substantial humor, legitimate comedy situations, and a host of the latest musical novelties are presented. The company interpreting "A Railroad Ticket" is an excellent one and includes Arthur Moulton, James T. Kelley, Harry Blaney, James Bevins, Harry Porter, Anna Caldwell, Rose Cheeneau, Hattie Waters, Jeanette Bageard, Marie Bach and the California quartette.

Sunday School Superintendents' Association.

At a meeting of the superintendents of the Sunday Schools of the city held some weeks ago, the advisability of forming a Superintendents' association was discussed. It seemed to those present that such an organization would be able to accomplish a certain work, which at present was being left undone. Perhaps one of the most important duties this association has taken upon itself is that of making a canvass of the city to ascertain the number of children not identified with any Sunday School. The city was therefore districted and each school assigned a portion of the city to canvass. At a meeting held at the First Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon the final arrangements were completed for the canvass, immediate work of making the canvass, which it is hoped will be completed about the first of May, and the report of the canvassers returned to the association.

CAMP NOTES.

Two More Men Ordered Out of the District.

A CRUSHER EDITORIAL.

It Offers Advice to the Mine Owners—A Fatal Accident at Midland During a Row—Some News Notes of the Mines.

Special to THE GAZETTE.

CRIPPLE CREEK, April 9.—A disturbance occurred after a miners' meeting on Sunday which is greatly regretted by nearly every person in camp. A meeting of miners was held on Sunday about noon, but by whom called cannot be learned. Several hundred were present and all but three or four were union men. It was a very orderly meeting and the speeches were very temperate. President Calderwood was present and made every effort to keep down the trouble that followed. About noon some 300 of the men walked into town and a meeting was called to order by a man whom no one knows by name. A motion was made to endorse the action of the miners in refusing the terms offered by the mine owners. A man named Wilson wanted to talk in favor of accepting the proposition of the owners but this was objected to. President Calderwood insisted that he should be heard. Wilson argued that times were hard all over the country and that miners were working every other place for less wages than formerly, etc. Calderwood replied that gold had not depreciated and showed that miners in other parts of the State had worked in the silver mines at low wages when the silver was over 85 per ounce, etc. Wilson replied to this in a speech. Some one called for a speech from a man named Ribeadeau. He was the personal guard of Manager Locke when he was driven from the camp and has made himself obnoxious to the men in several ways. There was a strong feeling against him but he was foolish enough to respond with a speech. He said he was as good a union man as there is in the camp when it is known that he does not belong to the union. Some one in the crowd proposed that they initiate him. In the crowd also was a man named Ferguson who has also made himself obnoxious to the men on account of having served as a guard at the Independence mine during the trouble there and by testifying in one of the cases lately tried in the county court. Ribeadeau and Ferguson were taken aside and what was said and done to them could not be learned. It is claimed that they were initiated into the union and were given a few hours in which to get out of camp. One of them is reported to have left but the other is still here.

The Crusher to-morrow morning will have the following editorial: "There is no denying the fact that up to the present time the miners are ahead in the contest with the mine owners. There are now twenty-eight mines working on the old eight-hour schedule and employing in the neighborhood of 600 men, while two with the sanction of the union are working nine hours for $3.25. The total number of mines now idle by reason of the labor troubles is seven, and with full crews would not, if all started up, employ over 300 men. The owners of the idle mines may as well look the facts in the face. The miners and a majority of the mine owners are against them, and unless they have a trump card of the highest value yet to play they may as well consider themselves beaten and take their medicine with as good grace as possible. There is another fact that all fair-minded men will consider and that is the men have had justice and right on their side and that the whole trouble was brought on by reason of the big mine owners seeking to take advantage of the present depressed labor market and thereby increase their profits from the working of the mines. All the big mines at the beginning of the trouble were paying. Gold was not a drug in the market, in fact it was greatly appreciated in value, and increase in profits was the selfish object aimed at by the owners when they ordered the shut down.

"Defeat of any kind carries a sting with it and wry faces on the part of the owners may be expected before the orders for starting up are finally issued, but it would seem as if a patriotic regard for the welfare of our beloved state would prompt these men to give the order to once more set the wheels of industry in motion; that from a selfish business standpoint they would see that it is to their interests to say the words that would turn the tide towards Cripple Creek. Our district is the bright particular spot in all Colorado which, after the terrible depression of last summer drew to the State the capital that helped to revive the stricken energy of the entire west. Our prosperity was reflected on Colorado Springs, Denver, Pueblo and all other centers. Messrs. Hagerman and Moffatt cannot but understand that our prosperity will have a beneficial effect on every enterprise in which they are interested over the entire State. Let them give the word to the managers of their bonanzas here and Colorado and the west will take on renewed prosperity."

NEWS OF THE MINES.

Recent development on the Elizabeth Cooper, on the west slope of Raven hill, is showing up that property to be a very valuable lease.

Kinney and Van Houghten after driving through 25 feet of vein matter on the Deadwood which to ordinary eyes has the appearance of having been take from the Independence, encountered to-day a streak of close grained blue quartz which has the appearance of being sylvanite bearing. The extent of the find has not been determined.

The lessee on the south end of the Hidden Treasure on Bull Hill, owned by Wilcox Bros. and others, is yielding pay ore and lots of it. Both sinking and drifting is going on and the ore body is perceptibly widening. The grade, heretofore rather low, is also improving.

In a fight this morning at the town of Midland between J. A. Lushbaugh and John Leonard, keeper of the hotel, Charles Hughes, who interfered to stop the fight, was accidentally shot by his friend Lushbaugh and mortally wounded. The bullet entered his right breast a few inches above the right nipple and raised upward. Dr. Chamberlain of this city was called, and after examining the man pronounced the wounds fatal. The wounded man, recognizing his condition, immediately made his will, bequeathing his property to his wife and children and appointing Lushbaugh, who shot him, the executor.

Official Count.

Yesterday the official count of the votes cast at the recent election was made by City Clerk Smith, assisted by his honor, Mayor Strickler. The following is the total vote:

Peltz-Walsh.

On Thursday last, April 5th, at St. Peter's Episcopal Church of Albany, N. Y., occurred the marriage of Mr. John DeWitt Peltz and Miss Catherine Barnard Walsh. The groom was formerly a resident of this city and was very prominent in its social life. The bride is a member of a prominent family in Albany, and is noted for her beauty.

The marriage was one of the events of the season in Albany and as both the bride and groom were prominent in fashionable circles, the church was crowded with a distinguished company. The bride was faultlessly attired in white satin, trimmed with point lace.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. George Herbert Walsh, of Philadelphia, uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. Dr. Walton W. Battershall, rector of St. Peter's, and the Rt. Rev. William Croswell Doane, bishop of Albany, who pronounced the benediction.

After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was given at the home of the bride's parents, followed by a reception. A number of Colorado Springs people were invited, several of whom, although not present, were represented by beautiful gifts. Among those who were invited from this city were: Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Ehrich, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hayes, Dr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hagerman, Mr. T. H. Edsall and Mr. W. C. Frost.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Rev. H. S. Beavis gave a strong helpful address to a large number of young men Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A.

About fifty delegates are expected to attend the Y. M. C. A. convention. If any friends of the association are willing to entertain any of these young men during their stay, from Friday night to Monday morning, will they please notify the secretary at once.

The first session of the Y. M. C. A. State convention which convenes in this city the latter part of this week will be held at the First Congregational Church, Friday evening at 7:30. An opening song service will be given in which Mr. Egmont Johnson will sing a vocal solo and Mr. Reynolds will render a mandolin solo. A male quartet will sing, etc. Professor Parsons, president of the local association, will make the address of welcome, followed by a response by Chancellor McDowell of Denver. This will be followed by the opening address of the convention by Rev. F. T. Bayley of Denver. The public, both ladies and gentlemen, are most cordially invited to attend all the sessions of the convention.

Last Meeting This Year.

The ministers of the city held their usual weekly meeting yesterday, when Rev. M. D. Ormes read an admirable paper on Dr. Herron's "The New Redemption." It was decided to adjourn the meetings until next fall, but before doing so Mr. Carrington spoke very feelingly of the pleasure and profit he had derived from association with his brethren during the four years of his pastorate in the city, and as this was probably the last meeting he would be privileged to attend, he thanked them for their courtesy. Prof. Dickey and others also spoke of the profit and pleasure the meetings have afforded them, and Dr. Gregg kindly reciprocated Mr. Carrington's sentiments in well chosen words.

The readers will notice among to-day's advertisements a notice that the production of the promised operetta "Below Zero," has been set for the 27th and 28th of this month, the former an evening and the latter an afternoon performance. Popular prices will be charged and the box office will be open for the sale of tickets on Thursday the 12th of April. As before stated the proceeds of the performance are to be devoted to the purchase of books for the Coburn Library, and if a good entertainment with a good object can "draw," this should be one of those occasions when "standing room only" will need to be posted on the door of the opera house.

The last session of the Winter Night college for the season will be held Friday evening. The circle work will be concluded and afterwards there will be two-minute speeches by members of the various circles, then refreshments will be served and a social time will be enjoyed.

The meeting at Colorado City last night for the purpose of organizing a lodge or branch of the A. O. F. was very satisfactory in every respect, and if the next meeting is as indicative of interest, the result will be proportionately equal to that of Colorado Springs. Arrangements are already perfected to make the next meeting vastly more attractive and instructive in all the various details, as well as beneficiary results.

KILL THE BILL.

As the tariff bill progresses through the Senate, it becomes more and more evident that its friends regard it only as a makeshift, as a first step in the direction they wish to go. Mr. Mills and Mr. Voorhees both take this view of it. They confess that it is in no sense a finality. In other words, they acknowledge that if it is passed, it will not be a settlement of the tariff question, even temporarily, but will be only the beginning of a long continued tariff agitation.

In view of these confessions by the foremost advocates of the bill, the attempt to induce the Senate to pass it, on the ground that its passage would settle anything, or introduce any element of certainty into the business situation, is simply ridiculous. The only way to settle anything, or introduce certainty into the business situation, is to kill the bill. Everybody knows pretty well that if the bill is not passed at this session it cannot be passed at all. The results of all the elections that have been held since this bill has been up for discussion point very plainly in one direction and to one conclusion, that unless conditions change in a miraculous manner between now and November, the Republicans will have a majority in the next Congress. If the bill is not passed now, and if the results of the November elections are as indicated, then we may be sure that no radical alteration of the tariff can be made before 1897, at soonest. Business conditions would then become stable, the element of uncertainty would drop out of sight, and, as we believe, a wave of returning prosperity would sweep over the country.

MORE BONDS.

The reference in the President's veto of the seigniorage bill to the necessity for a further issue of bonds might have been expected to be the prelude to a bill providing for the increase of the public debt. Such it has proved to be. Mr. Meyer of Louisiana, one of the administration group, has introduced a bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to issue more bonds bearing 3 per cent. interest, ostensibly to redeem the 5 per cent. bonds recently issued by Secretary Carlisle, but principally to enable the Secretary to issue as many more as he thinks may be necessary to keep the treasury from running behind. In order to sugar the dose for the friends of silver, Mr. Meyer has inserted in this bill a provision for the coinage of 43,000,000 ounces of seigniorage silver. In this way he hopes to secure their support and keep them from fighting the additional issue of bonds.

So long as present financial conditions continue, the United States treasury is going to keep running behind. That is a fact that must be faced. As things are now, the revenue of the government is not sufficient for its current expenses. The deficit must be made up in some way. There are two ways to meet the deficiency; either to increase the receipts of the government, or to go in debt. The administration and the Democratic leaders at Washington prefer the latter plan. The Republicans, when they were in power, always preferred the former plan. That is one of the differences between the two parties. So long as the Democrats keep the revenues down by hammering at the tariff, we must expect to go in debt to meet our current expenses. The issue of bonds is necessary, because the Democrats have made it necessary. But if the Democrats expect to enlist the support of the silver men by throwing out a little bit of bait in the form of a proposition to coin the seigniorage, they are likely to be wofully disappointed.

Two remarkable speeches were made in the Senate yesterday, Mr. Wolcott's on the silver question, and Mr. Hill's on the tariff. Senator Hill devoted himself mainly to the income tax, and virtually gave notice that he will not vote for the bill with this provision in it. His speech was a strong one, and one of a kind to influence votes. He made it very clear that the present bill is in no sense a carrying out of the pledges made in the Democratic platform, and made a strong point in insisting that what would have been entirely proper in 1888, with an enormous surplus to be reduced, would at this time, with a large deficit in the treasury, be the height of folly. If one may judge from the general tone of Mr. Hill's speech, he would much prefer to have this bill recommitted, with instructions to frame a measure in accordance with the Democratic platform.

The new football rules made by the committee which had the matter in charge will doubtless be a great improvement upon the rules for 1893. The so called momentum plays are abolished, piling up on a man who is down is prohibited, and the method of scoring is changed. Hereafter, a touchdown counts two, and a goal counts three, whether kicked from a touchdown or from the field. This will have the effect of increasing the kicking, and decreasing the hand-to-hand struggles—a change which will make the game far more entertaining to watch, less dangerous, and just as scientific as at present.

The present state of our foreign affairs is enough to make every patriotic American wish for a few days of James G. Blaine in the State department. It is rather humiliating to feel that with the British pursuing their usual aggressive policy in Central America, in the Sandwich islands, in Samoa, and in the north Pacific, we have a President and a Secretary of State in whom we cannot trust to maintain the honor of our country, and who are more apt to take the British than the American view of all international questions.

The miners of Cripple Creek have voted again to reject the proposition of the mine-owners and thereby have cut their own throats. It is safe to say that as soon as the railroads get into camp, work will be resumed on the comparatively few mines where it has been stopped, and Cripple Creek will go on and flourish, in spite of the attempt of a few men from Idaho and Montana to run the whole concern. There are plenty of men willing to work at the wages offered, and glad of the chance.

The nomination of Charles H. J. Taylor for Recorder of Deeds in the District of Columbia is causing a great rumpus in the Capital, not because Mr. Taylor is a colored man, as the present occupant of the office is also, but because he comes from Kansas, and the Washington people believe in home rule.

We are glad to note that our Representative in Congress voted against the seating of the democratic contestant in the Hilborn English case. Mr. Pence is recorded as not voting. In fact that is the usual record of Mr. Pence.

Sunday's little snow flurry was just enough to make us appreciate the splendid weather of yesterday.

Virtue Was Its Own Reward.

A south side society girl who is teaching in a "patch" kindergarten had a queer offer from one of the small Italians who attend the school. One day not long ago the young lady was walking in the patch district after being delayed at school finishing some work. She was passing a saloon, and in front of it stood one of the scholars. He had an accordion, and a small sister stood by his side shaking a tambourine.

As the teacher approached the little boy called out to her, "Hello, teacher! Me and Tessa plays here every day."

The kindergartener dropped a coin in the dirty little hand which the little "Tessa" held out, and speaking to Johnny passed on.

The next morning Johnny held up his hand, waving it about impatiently, trying to catch the teacher's eye.

"Well, Johnny, what is it?"

"Teacher, I seen you yesterday, didn't I?"

"Yes, Johnny."

"Did you see dat saloon where I was front of?"

"Yes, dear; that will do. Don't talk any more now."

In a moment up came the little hand again.

"Well, Johnny, what is it?"

"Say, teacher, any time dat youse wants a drink, ef you goes to dat saloon, it's my pa's saloon, and ef you tells him you're my teacher he'll give youse a drink for nothin' and a free lunch, wid bully soup t'rown in!"—Chicago Tribune.

Her Opinion of It.

"Once when I was in one of my back counties," said a Tennessee congressman "I stopped at a small hotel, where I was an object of curiosity to a couple of natives, evidently man and wife. I was sitting out on a little porch in front of the house reading a newspaper, and they were watching me as if I were some kind of a new creation, but I tried to remain unconscious of it behind my paper. Finally they began to talk.

"'Who d' yon reckon he is?' queried the woman in a half whisper.

"'Dunno S'posin I ax him?' he ventured quite as curious as she was.

"'You dasn't,' she said in a tone implying that she hoped he would, and he did, and I told him I was the congressman from that district. He went back to her smiling.

"'Guess who,' he said

"'Some kinder drummer er other,' she replied, peeping at me cautiously.

"The man shook his head.

"'He ain't no preacher, I'm shore,' she said, 'but he might be a sewin machine agent.'

"'No he ain't,' said the man. 'He's the congressman from this deestrick—that's what he is.'

"'Did he tell you so?' she asked incredulously.

"'In course'

"'My,' she exclaimed, 'I wouldn't 'a' thought it It's bad enough to be one without goin round tellin everybody.'"—Detroit Free Press.

FROM WASHINGTON.

VIEWS OF A LOUISIANA CONGRESSMAN ON THE WILSON BILL

The Debate In the Senate Other Pressing Matters The Alleged Funny Men at Work Over the Breckinridge Case A Bit of Reminiscence.

WASHINGTON, April 9 [Special.] "My district is very peculiar," said the Hon Robert C Davey of New Orleans in the course of a lengthy talk on political prospects, "and often surprises the oldest politicians in it. For instance, we were beaten in 1884 and 1888, and yet I carried the district in 1893 by some 6,000 majority. I notified the people several weeks ago that I would not be a candidate again, and there are four or five lively applicants for the nomination That part of the district in New Orleans is Democratic, of course, but outside the Republican majority was formerly 5,000 The negroes became so well satisfied with the general action of the planters that I got enough of their votes to reduce the outside majority to a few hundreds. But it would be nonsense for anybody to run on the platform of the Wilson bill as it passed the house, and they might as well ask a man to shoot himself as to vote for it The planters would go against him unanimously and carry all the negroes with them. In fact, nobody could be induced to run on any such platform.

"The planters and people outside of the city were very anxious for me to run again, but one term has satisfied me It costs so much [illegible] much to live here that I lose money by staying, and every year a man stays in congress he is less fitted for business I am not a professional man, so I have resigned and entered into a partnership, one of the conditions being that I shall stay out of politics But as to the main question anybody can see that there is at least the usual discontent at the end of the first year of an administration, if not a great deal more, and that it will be very hard pulling this year for Democrats. There is a very large element of voters that are always out of humor with the party in power, and every man who begins a raid on an administration is sure to have a following. If you will look over our political history, I think you will find that new parties always start in an off year Of course, if the election were held now, the Democrats would be badly beaten, and next fall the chances are somewhat mixed for the next house."

"And what will be the effect of Cleveland's veto and his appointments?"

"Oh, I should be glad to talk about that, but really you must excuse me now I have an important committee meeting at this hour."

The Tariff Debate.

The correspondents prophesied a fortnight ago that the tariff debate in the senate would be a slow affair, and the senate has so far more than fulfilled the prophecy. It was quite a disappointment to see the galleries not quite filled when Mr Voorhees opened the debate, and it was a surprise to find them partly emptied before he closed, but that was only a beginning of the signs of indifference. It is evident that the discussion is laid aside or taken up from day to day, just as the notion may take the senators, and the pressure to have other measures considered is so great that it seems sometimes as if the tariff were about to be laid aside altogether. Senator Morgan is extremely anxious to have Nicaragua, the Mosquito coast and all along shore in that region discussed, and Senator White insists on early consideration of the Chinese treaty, although he went home about the time it was made public. There has been a very peculiar change of opinion on this treaty The first Pacific coast men who spoke denounced it bitterly, declaring it a surrender to the Chinese, but Senator White declares that California approves it, and that being the case there will be very little opposition to it Senator Morgan hopes to have it disposed of before the 1st of May, if not sooner. In the house no great hope is held out of getting into any business of great general interest for some days yet, owing to the wearisome delay with the contested election cases and others where filibustering was practiced.

Breckinridge's Ruin.

The ruin of Defendant Breckinridge may be said to be complete when even his family name and history are made the subject of off color jokes The jocose journalists have already set their wits at work on the names of the two parties, and it is really singular how readily both names lend themselves to pun, paragraph and pithy perversion The dictionaries and histories of names are ransacked In Webster's Unabridged appears this "Pollard 1 A tree having the top cut off at some height above the ground that it may throw out branches. 2. A coin which has been clipped, and hence a counterfeit. 3 The chub fish 4 A stag that has cast his horns. 5 A mixture of bran and meal Pollard (verb), To lop the top of a tree." Breckinridge is said by an authority to mean "Broken house" and by another to mean a broken fortune or estate It matters not, as either will do, and the sportive remarks suggested by all these definitions must be left to the imagination

A Necessary Infliction.

Meanwhile all sorts of societies in Washington and elsewhere are sending in all sorts of requests that he be dealt with after this manner or that On this point Judge Culberson chairman of the house judiciary committee, says, "I am very sure there has been no case of a member being expelled or even censured for immorality as such, nor do I see how a rule could be devised to draw the line with necessary exactness" Another member of the committee says that the now famous Baconian, Ignatius Donnelly, once narrowly escaped the censure of the house or something worse by using language about a fellow member which wouldn't do to print and was nicknamed Ignasticus by his colleagues. The old members do not recall the exact language, and of course it is not in The Congressional Record, for both members made abject apologies, and the whole colloquy was stricken out. Only the most decent part of it was printed in the newspapers, and that was pretty bad Such cases are only interesting as reminiscences, for all the members of the two committees on whom it depends say that no action will be taken by the house against Colonel Breckinridge has an option on the Pharmacist will take up the option. This rumor had the result yesterday of raising considerable inquiry for the stock for the purpose of locating it. None of the brokers reported sales however.

Characteristic Gestures of Noted Men.

The Prince of Wales, it seems, when annoyed, winks his left eye rapidly; the emperor of Austria (like angry Zeus) puffs out his cheeks the czar lays his hand flat on the top of his head, Mr. Gladstone turns swiftly on his heels, as if executing a volte face, Dr. Tanner lays back his head and sweeps, the sultan of Turkey draws his hand rapidly across his throat, and Mr. Charles Mitchell shoots out his fist suddenly and forcibly in a horizontal direction.

The Columbian Gold Mining and Milling company of Red Creek, Turkey Creek district, has been working a force of men on its properties for the past six weeks and are securing some fine looking ore. They lately opened up on the Iapa claim a fine vein of carbonates two and one-half feet in thickness, which assays in gold $1 at the surface and $6.50 at the depth of 80 feet. The company let a contract Saturday to sink 60 feet on this vein, which, in the judgment of expert mining men, will prove a shipper before the contract is completed. The Leader Gold Mining company has also opened a vein of carbonates on the Honey Comb claim, which promises to be equal to the Iapa vein.

H. A. Mills, the president and general manager of the Union Gold Mining company, came down from camp to attend the regular monthly meeting held yesterday afternoon. Mr. Mills is very much elated over the splendid prospects of the mines, and reports the following facts, viz: That there are five separate workings, each of which is now shipping to the smelters and mills, and that during the past ten months' development $80,000 has been produced. He also reports the output for March to be $21,308 21, and states that there will be enough cash in the treasury by the expiration of the lease (May 31) to pay a dividend, and that at least five dividends of 1 per cent. each can be paid during the remainder of the year. It is also stated that the company are now making the necessary preparation to assume control of all their valuable property June 1 and operate it themselves in a business manner. One hundred and twenty-three men are now employed in the various workings. The directors have pooled their stock, which together with 187,000 shares yet in the treasury, leaves but a small amount of loose stock floating on the market. The company is out of debt, free from litigation and have all their claims patented.

LADIES' FINE OXFORD TIES!
The Prices Still Lower.

Barnard's Ladies' fine $4.50 and $5 kid, white canvas, patent leather, and in all of the late tan and brown colors, reduced to $3 and $3.50.

For Style, Fit and Wear,
There is no better made. See our new line of ladies' medium priced kid Oxford Ties with patent tips, $1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2, $2.50 and $3. They fit beautifully and wear satisfactorily. Men's lace and congress shoes. An elegant, medium-priced line at a dollar and a half, two, two fifty and three. Examine our famous line of boys' school shoes, button and lace, at one fifty, sizes from 11 to 2. Our customers say they wear equal to shoes they have paid two dollars for. Come in and see the large line of ladies' button and lace shoes on our bargain counters at about half the former price.

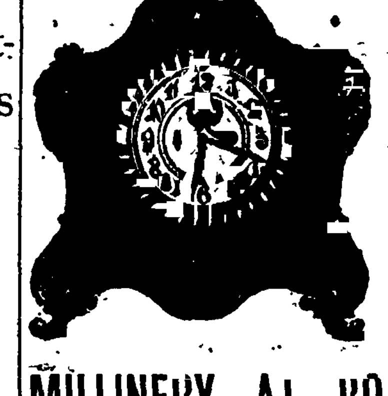

Store will be open until 10 o'clock P. M.

A WEARY AND WICKED WORLD.
All of us are desperately wicked, and some of us more so. Not necessary to mention names, you know who you are if we don't. If it was not for the few pleasures capable of being grasped occasionally, this would indeed be "a vale of tears." But when our friends can avail themselves of a chance like this occasionally, prospects become slightly more pleasing.
